LT-
Please be aware that my belief is that they are looking in the IHSC because they want to alleviate their liability under the existing consent decree. The existing consent decree obsoletes them of CERCLA liability of constituents found in the water. Of course what they are failing to realize is that the consent decree does not obsoletes them from oil liability.

Good afternoon Mike,

We went back and forth over whether samples should be taken at the intake. They said they are waiting for the USCG and EPA FOIA requested sample analysis. Additionally, they said they would sample the monitoring wells. We asked for the history on the monitoring wells and any data they had on them. We said we wanted a comprehensive search and not just one that looks for sources in the Indiana Harbor Ship Canal. Feel free to add any more you saw MST1.

Very respectfully,
LT Paul Arnold

I wanted to see if anything significant became of your meeting with arcelor mittal?
